

During these acts, you must reveal the following points:

Act One

- 1 Cinderella and I became friends because the writers of our books are from Italy, so I suppose that makes us Italians. Cinderella told me how the King kept bothering her. I was determined to save her from him. My Good Fairy had warned me that he was an evil man. The King kept giving me things to carry for him. I said that lazy people were often turned into donkeys, but he just laughed.
- 2 My father Geppetto had sold the coat from his back to help me out, but I knew that the King wasn't like that. He was a very selfish man. Very selfish indeed. And he kept on pulling my nose, which annoyed me. Just because it's long, it doesn't mean people should pull on it. When I told him to stop doing that, he told me little boys should be seen and not heard.
- 3 Alice knew she had to get King Henry to like her so that she could perform the "Eat Me" and "Drink Me" tricks she had learned from her book on him.
- 4 King Henry wanted Aladdin's genie, so he came up from behind a bookcase where Huck and Aladdin were playing billiards. He waited till it was Aladdin's turn and then he stole Aladdin's lamp as he had put it down to play.

Act Two

- 1 (after someone asks you how you stopped King Henry from making you his slave) I told him that if he wasn't careful, I would ask the Good Fairy to turn him into a donkey so he could carry my loads.
- 2 I decided to turn the King into a donkey. I asked the Good Fairy if it could be done.
- 3 The King asked Aladdin's genie for three wishes, and all three of them were as evil as could be.
- 4 I heard Little Red Riding Hood's Grandmother say, "I told the King that he shouldn't be offering a girl as young as my granddaughter jewels and other such riches. He said he always got what he wanted. I found it very disconcerting to have him around. I would have liked to bolt the library door against him."

Act Three

- 1 Cinderella decided to try visiting the library during the daytime instead of at night. But she found it not so good, as you have to keep avoiding being seen by the real people. She did a search on the computer and found that King Henry was mentioned in three history books and in two Encyclopedia sections.
- 2 It doesn't happen all at once. It takes time to turn someone into a donkey. At first just their ears turn into donkey ears. It is very embarrassing. A few hours later your hands and feet become hooves. Then your face changes to a long donkey's head and your back grows thick, gray-black hair.
- 3 Later in the evening, I saw the King and he had donkey ears but he was hiding them with his woolen cap. He said he would destroy the person who had turned him into a donkey. I don't know why the donkey King isn't still around.
- 4 I heard Aladdin's genie say, "Although I never told Aladdin what I did exactly, I am usually the bringer of such blessings in Aladdin's life. I know you all feel very much in gratitude to me, but please don't feel you have to kiss my shoes or anything. A simple nod and word of thanks will do."
